

(R)

ACD - 8798
INVC M.S.A 14.1.98

WOMEN POLITICAL ELITES IN BANGLADESH: THEIR CHARACTERISTICS AND PROCESS OF POLITICAL SOCIALISATION

by
HAFIZA BEGUM

Perpustakaan Universiti Malaya

A507469252

Thesis submitted to the University of Malaya in fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the Faculty of Economics and Administration

University of Malaya
August 1996

Dimikrofilkan pada... 11-08-98
No. Mikrofilis... 13666
Jumlah Mikrofilis... 04

HAMSIH BT. MOHAMMAD ZAHARI
UNIT REPROGRAFI
PERPUSTAKAAN UTAMA
UNIVERSITI MALAYA

UPR

ABSTRACT

This exercise is an attempt to study women political elites in Bangladesh who are active in national politics. Based on primary data collected from male and female samples, this study highlights some of the distinctive qualities of women political elites, the process responsible for their becoming political activists, and their relative status and achievements in the political arena.

One of the important findings is that women political elites are more urbanised as compared to male politicians and that most of them come from families of high social status, unlike their male counterparts. They also differ significantly from men in educational and occupational achievements but in terms of affluence, both groups appear similar.

The study also indicates that women tend to have different political socialisation experiences compared to their male counterparts. The family variables appear significant in their earliest political orientation but the role of family is not similar in motivating their participation in politics. The time of earliest political socialisation has significant bearing on the motivating factors. However, for men, the role of peer groups is more salient in their political socialisation process.

The study further shows that even when women achieve high positions in their political career they still have unequal status with men. The study also pinpoints the problems faced by women contesting in parliamentary elections and discerns respondents' opinions about "reserved seats" for women in the Parliament. Women exhibit a more supportive attitude to the existing system of reserved seats while more men are discontented with this system. Thus, the study indicates a significant difference between women and men in their opinion about the special constitutional provision on "reserved seats" in the Parliament of Bangladesh.

This study attempts to answer several important questions which lie at the heart of women's political participation in Bangladesh. It presents generated data and findings on certain aspects of women political elites which future researchers may find useful. The findings of the study might have some policy implications in determining future directions and strategies towards a greater participation and roles of women in the political arena.

To My Parents and Nabil, Shadiid

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deepest gratitude and sincerest thanks first to Professor Firdaus Abdullah, my dissertation supervisor. I am greatly indebted to him for his invaluable guidance and advice throughout the writing of this dissertation. I would also like to thank Associate Professor Mr. Teh Hoe Yoke for checking through my research methodology and analysis of data. I have also benefitted a great deal from the discussions of the research area with Professor Najma Chowdhury of the Dhaka University.

My special appreciation is due to the respondents of this study. Their cooperation enabled me to get the data I needed for my study.

I also wish to extend my acknowledgement to the Public Service Department of the Government of Malaysia for financial support during my study at University of Malaya.

I am also thankful to Mrs. Padmini Menon from the Faculty of Language and Linguistic for her editing assistance. I must also thank Mr. Abdul Razak Halifa and Mrs. Norma Hamid for their excellent typing and computing help.

I would also like to thank Professor Ataul Huq Pramanik and Mrs. Pramanik for their constant encouragement while I was struggling to complete this work. I am also grateful to Professor AL. Ramaiah and Mrs. Mulai Ramaiah for their numerous helps.

Finally, my greatest debt is to my parents who looked after my children in Bangladesh with more than patience and endless love throughout the whole period of my study in Kuala Lumpur. I gratefully acknowledge their substantial moral support and encouragement. My sons, Nabil and Shadid, spent a long time of their young lives without their mother's care. They both deserve medals for their sacrifices and loving endurance. I also acknowledge the persistent support and encouragement of my husband, Imteaz.

University of Malaya
Kuala Lumpur

Hafiza Begum
August 30, 1996

CONTENTS

	Page
ABSTRACT	ii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	v
CONTENTS	vii
LIST OF TABLES	xiii
LIST OF FIGURES	xvi
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	xvii
 CHAPTER 1 : INTRODUCTION	 1
1.1 Introduction to a study of the Women Political elites in Bangladesh	1
1.2 Statement of the Problem	3
1.3 Objectives of the Study	6
1.4 Scope of the Study	7
1.5 Significance of the Study	9
1.6 Theoretical Framework	10
1.7 The Conceptual Framework	18
1.8 Research Methodology	20
1.8.1 The Sampling Methodology	21
(a) The Mode of Selection of the Political Parties	21
(b) Respondents in the Study	23
1.8.2 Data Collection Procedure and Instrument	28
(a) Primary Sources - Data from Questionnaire	28
(b) Secondary Sources	29
1.8.3 The Survey	30
1.9 Processing and Analysis of Data	31
1.10 Problems and Limitations of the Study	32
1.11 Presentation of the Study	34

	Page
CHAPTER 2 : REVIEW OF THE LITERATURE	35
2.1 Studies Conducted in Bangladesh	35
2.2 Studies Conducted Outside Bangladesh	38
(a) Political Socialisation Explanation	40
(b) Situational Explanation	43
(c) Structural Explanation	44
2.3 Research Related to Political Socialisation and Family Background	46
2.4 Research Related to Socio-economic Background	54
2.5 Research Related to Political Career and Experiences	61
Conclusion	63
CHAPTER 3 : WOMEN IN BANGLADESH: THEIR SUBORDINATE AND UNEQUAL STATUS	64
3.1 Some Basic Facts About Bangladesh	64
3.1.1 The Country and Its Public Administration	65
3.2 A Profile of Women in Bangladesh	66
3.2.1 The Historical and Anthropological Background of Women in Bangladesh	66
3.2.2 Women and Social Relations in Bangladesh	69
3.2.3 Cultural Norm of the Segregation of Sexes	71
3.2.4 The Legal Status of Women in Bangladesh	72
3.2.5 The Educational Status of Women in Bangladesh	74
3.2.6 The Economic Status of Women in Bangladesh	79
Conclusion	82

	Page
CHAPTER 4 : POLITICAL PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN IN BANGLADESH	84
4.1 The Political History of Bangladesh	84
(a) The Pakistan Era	85
(b) The Post-Independence Era	88
4.2 History of Women's Political Participation in Bangladesh	90
4.3 Women in Bangladesh Politics: Constitutional and Legal Provisions	96
4.3.1 Women in Parliament and Electoral Politics	97
(a) Women's Participation in Voting	97
(b) Women's Participation in Parliament	98
4.4 Political Parties in Bangladesh	103
4.4.1 Organisational Setup	106
4.4.2 Women's Participation in Political Parties	108
4.5 Women at the Decision-Making Level	111
Conclusion	112
 CHAPTER 5 : POLITICAL WOMEN IN BANGLADESH: PERSONAL CHARACTERISTICS AND SOCIO-ECONOMIC BACKGROUNDS	 114
5.1 Profile of Political Women in Bangladesh - Personal Characteristics	114
5.1.1 Marital Status	115
5.1.2 Age of Political Women	116
5.1.3 Regional Origin and Background	119
5.1.3.1 Place of Birth	120
5.1.3.2 The Place of Upbringing	122
5.1.3.3 Residence	124
5.2 Socio-economic Status of Political Women	126
5.2.1 Educational Background	128

	Page
5.2.2 Occupational Background	134
5.2.3 Income	138
5.2.4 Status of Husbands	141
Conclusion	143

CHAPTER 6 : POLITICAL SOCIALISATION AND DEVELOPMENT OF POLITICAL WOMEN IN BANGLADESH: IMPACT OF FAMILIAL VARIABLES AND OTHER FACTORS

	146
6.1 Political Socialisation: Familial and Other Variables	147
6.2 Social Position of Parents	151
6.2.1 Educational Levels of Parents	153
6.2.2 Occupations of Fathers	156
6.2.3 Social Class Position of Parents	158
6.3 The Political Socialisation of Political Women - The Role of Family	162
6.3.1 The Salience of Politics in the Home	166
6.3.1.1 Political Interest of Parents	166
6.3.1.2 Political Discussion by the Parents	168
6.3.1.3 Political Involvement of Parents	171
6.3.1.4 Politicised Family Environment	173
6.3.1.5 Political Involvement of Other Family Members and Relatives	177
6.3.2 Time of Earliest Political Interest	180
6.3.3 Sources of Earliest Political Interest	184
6.4 Political Socialisation - Becoming Active in Politics	189
Conclusion	195

	Page
CHAPTER 7 : POLITICAL WOMEN: CAREER, EXPERIENCE AND POLITICAL ASPIRATIONS	199
7.1 Organisational Involvement Before Joining Political Party	200
7.2 Political Career and Experience	208
7.2.1 Length of Political Party Involvement	208
7.2.2 Age at Which Became Party Members	213
7.3 Experiences in Holding Party Offices	215
7.3.1 Present and Last Position in the Party Organisation	216
7.3.2 Length of the Experience in Holding Party Office	220
7.4 Electoral Participation and Public Office Holding Experiences	225
7.5 Political Ambition	230
Conclusion	235
 CHAPTER 8 : WOMEN IN PURSUIT OF AND REPRESENTATION IN LEGISLATIVE OFFICES IN BANGLADESH: PROBLEMS AS PERCEIVED BY THE POLITICAL WOMEN	 238
8.1 Problems of Women's Participation in the National Elections	239
8.2 Selection Barriers	244
8.2.1 Shortage of Eligible and Potential Women	244
8.2.2 Discriminating Attitude of the Selection Committee	251
8.2.3 Lack of Motivation	254
8.3 Election Barriers	256
8.3.1 Election Expenses and Financial Constraints	256
8.3.2 Voters' Negative Attitude and Problems of Campaigning	260
8.4 Women's Representation Through Reserved Seats in the National Parliament of Bangladesh: Attitude of Political Women	264
8.4.1 Attitude Towards Reserved Seats in the Parliament	269
Conclusion	275

	Page
CHAPTER 9 : CONCLUSIONS	280
Findings and Conclusions	281
9.1 Personal Characteristics and Socio-economic Backgrounds	281
9.2 Process of Political Socialisation	283
9.3 Political Career, Experience and Aspirations	286
9.4 Problems Related to Participation of Women in Electoral Contests and their Representation in the National Parliament	289
9.5 Concluding Remarks	293
9.6 Implications for Future Research	294
 APPENDICES	 296
APPENDIX 1 : Questionnaire	297
APPENDIX 2 : List of Persons Interviewed	306
BIBLIOGRAPHY	307

LIST OF TABLES

TABLE	Page
1.1 The Distribution of Men and Women in the Central Committees of the Selected Political Parties of Bangladesh	24
4.1 Number of General Seats Won by and Reserved Seats for Women in Parliament, 1973-1991	100
4.2 Women's Participation in Five Parliamentary Elections, 1973-1991 (excluding by - elections).	101
4.3 Number and Percentage of Women Candidates Put up by the Major Political Parties in the Parliamentary Elections of 1991.	102
4.4 Women in Top Echelon of Political Party, 1995	109
5.1 Marital Status of Respondents	116
5.2 Age of Respondents	117
5.3 Place of Birth of Respondents	120
5.4 The Place where Respondents Grew up	122
5.5 Residence of Respondents	124
5.6 Distribution of Population in Bangladesh	125
5.7 Highest Degree Obtained by Respondents	129
5.8 Institutions Attended by Respondents for Bachelor's/Graduate Degree	132
5.9 Occupations of Respondents	134
5.10 Family Income (Monthly) of Respondents	139
5.11 Educational Qualifications of Husbands of Political Women	142
5.12 Occupations of Husbands of Political Women	142
6.1 Educational Achievements of Respondents' Fathers	154
6.2 Educational Achievements of Respondents' Mothers	155
6.3 Occupations of Respondents' Fathers	157
6.4 Social Class of Respondents' Parents	159
6.5 Comparison Between the Educational Attainments of Political Women and their Fathers	160

TABLE	Page
6.6 Political Interest of Respondents' Fathers	166
6.7 Political Interest of Respondents' Mothers	167
6.8 The Amount of Political Discussion by Respondents' Fathers in the Home	169
6.9 The Amount of Political Discussion by Respondents' Mothers in the Home	170
6.10 Political Involvement of Respondents' Fathers	173
6.11 Distribution of Respondents in Politicised Family	174
6.12 Politically Active Spouses and Relatives of Respondents	178
6.13 Time of Earliest Political Interest of Respondents	182
6.14 Persons Involved in the Earliest Political Interest	184
6.15 Sources of Earliest Political Interest	186
6.16 Association Between the Time of Earliest Political Interest and the Agent	186
6.17 Factors Related to Respondents' Becoming Active in Politics	190
6.18 Time of Earliest Political Interest and Factors Related to Respondents' Political Participation	192
7.1 Organisational Participation by Respondents Prior to Becoming Party Members	201
7.2 Positions Held by the Respondents in the Student Organisations	205
7.3 Length of Political Party Involvement since Enlisting as Party Members	208
7.4 Length of Membership in the Present Party	211
7.5 Age at which Respondents Became Party Members for the First Time	214
7.6 Present Positions of the Respondents in the Party Organisations	216
7.7 Last Positions Held by the Respondents in the Party Organisations	218
7.8 Last and Present Positions of Political Women in the Party Organisations	219

TABLEPage

7.9	Length of Experience in Holding Party Office	221
7.10	Different Aspects of Contesting National Elections by Respondents and Legislative Office - Holding Experience	226
7.11	Level of Respondents' Political Ambition	233
8.1	Reasons for Women's Less Pursuit of Legislative Office Through Contesting Elections as Perceived by Respondents	240
8.2	Opinions of Respondents Regarding the Reserved Seats for Women in the National Parliament of Bangladesh	270
8.3	Suggestions of Respondents about the Present System of Reserved Seats for Women in the National Parliament of Bangladesh	271

LIST OF FIGURES

		Page
Figure 1.1	Conceptual Framework	19

LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

AL	Bangladesh Awami League
APWA	All Pakistan Women's Association
BNP	Bangladesh Nationalist Party
CC	Central Committee
CCs	Central Committees
CPB	Communist Party of Bangladesh
EPCP	East Pakistan Communist Party
EPSL	East Pakistan Student League
EPSU	East Pakistan Student Union
GDP	Gross Domestic Product
GS	General Seats
ICS	Islami Chhatra Sangha
Jamaat	Jamaat-i-Islami
JP	Jatiya Party
JS	Jatiya Sangsad
JSD(I)	Jatiya Somajtantrik Dal
MP	Members of Parliament
Mps	Members of Parliament
NAP(M)	National Awami Party
RS	Reserved Seats
SES	Socio-economic Status
SMTC	Single Member Territorial Constituency
UP	Union Parishad
WP	Workers' Party