Some interesting sites, worth visiting:

Online Dictionaries and Translators.

Mr. Ganesan wrote,
In the one year i am exposed to Tamilnet, i have noticed an abundance of intellectual skills from all over the world. Going through discussions are like being amongst the best brains in the tamil world. I am one of the previleged few who have benefitted tremendously. Some discussions are meaningful, some projects interesting and if there is a way to attain new standards, why not? We should if possible, share in anyway possible to the masses of tamil people of millions who are unaccessable to a PC. Your gesture in translating the C&L manual will be a fantastic start. We would definetly have an additional and new medium of getting tamil people closer. Any education these days needs a multi pronged attack. In my opinion, learning any skills in our modern world would not go along well, if it isn't fun, interesting and have both a proven track and guranteed a success.

■ What's happening at tamil dot net?

What's happening at Thamizh Inaiyam or tamil dot net you ask. Lots. We're coining new words. Ramani from somewhere down South in the US is leading the effort. Nagu from Bangalore has worked up a great summary our discussions on Thiruvalluvar. Palani is feverishing plugging in reports from Singapore. See pictures of Muthu, Palani, Dr Kalyan, V T Arasu and Sujatha here. Have you checked out Desikan's home page? He's quite a decent Chennai-ite you know and last I heard his fol were bugging him to get married - so there you want I know what an eligible bachelor does besides work :-).

Do email your pictures to bala@tamil.net with some background on yourself if you want to be featured here.

Kannan from Germany is an avid community member see his views and those of others on the tamil dot net archives.

Nagu is also putting together an online Tamil dictionary wanna check it out and give him some feedback? Click here for the Akaram beta.

Have a play around with our autoresponders. Click her

What else is hot on tamil dot net?

Well you gotta join it to find out - simply send a blank email - to tamil-subscribe@tamil.net and you'll be in t i community. US Aravindan is back and boy is he witty \ his Madras bashai!!! Join now - you can always unsubscribe if it ain't your cup of rasam :-) Here's a pa with answers to frequently asked questions

So what is a cybercommunity?
A cybercommunity is a meeting of minds. People listen other participants' ideas and views on prevailing topics Some participate actively while others are passive listeners. People learn and observe. People develop relationships with participants often through separate email.

Still more questions?

Send an email to Bala Pillai at bala@tamil.net or Muthu Nedumaran at muthu@tamil.net. We do have other wc to do so be patient if we don't answer right away :-) anbudan..../bala, sydney bala@tamil.net http://www.apic.net/news

2. Section 2: Pahadi... (Humor)

Title: Re: [tamil] FWD: An European Pahadi... (Humor)
Date: 10/11/01 viswanathan_t_m@hotmail.com
Opening: To All:

VenNakam.

Have people become so immune to thinking on their own that they cannot distinguish between globalization and "Ekambaram"? Ekambaram is one Umbrella, which is of the Lord. He is the Globalization is man-made and is creating a "Chakra Varthi". That is valid, of course. If there is a man or a woman who has the courage to catch the "Tilak Horse" then there will be a battle. If there is none, then what? Such a Chakra Varthi will become Ekambaram. Right? But, there is always the possibility tha a "Ulagalakum Perumal" would be born. YOU can't have two Ekambarams. The Sun is amde by Ekambaram. The Chakra Varthi can make some satellites of course. But Perumal is tricky. He knows how to measure.

NawthaGiwthan En Nawthan!
Sound of Music: GiwthaNadhan! There is a movie with that title!
Actually NawValar means gifted speaker.
One can say about a stereo speaker: Eppadi Navilugiradhru Indha Nadhini, Theriumaw? This speaker, how nicely it emits sounds. Naviludha! is literally using tongue to emit a sound, so to speak! An infant only Navilugiradhru. Old people who cannot speak fluently Navilugirawrgal!
Nadhini is nice for advertisement purposes also. One ad could read:
Nadhini: Ithu Vinodhmani! Thwumunum Iniaydhu!
What did you come up with? Please, let me know. I am sorry I cannot read Keyman. It does not work for me.
