ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Should there be any merits in this piece of work, the credit should go to all those persons who have helped the writer in one way or another, but should there be any shortcomings, the responsibility is totally the writer's.

The writer wishes to record her deepest appreciation and thanks for the help and encouragement, the many suggestions for improvement and guide to Mr. Michael Lim and also Mr. Choong Yee Wah, who had helped the writer a lot in the early stages of research.

The writer also wishes to thank:-

- Mr. Mak Joon Jun, the Acting Manager of the Exchange Control Department of Bank Negara and also the Personnel Department for having allowed flexibility in the writer's practical training hours so as to allow work on this dissertation to be done.
- Mr. Ronald Khoo of Shearn and Delamore for having explained the system of disciplinary procedure.
- The staff at the House of Parliament for having made Hansards available for the writer's use.
- The librarians at the High Court Library, the Bank Negara Library and the University of Malaya Library.
- All those persons whom the writer had interviewed but wished to remain anonymous.
- All those who had indirectly or directly helped the writer, where omission to mention names is due to inadequate space, not of ingratitude.
