

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
Acknowledgements	ii
Abstract	iii
Table of Contents	iv
List of Tables	vii
List of Charts	xi
List of Appendices	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xiv
Chapter 1 Introduction and Statement of Problem	1
1.1 Role of the Financial System	2
1.2 Financial Liberalization: The New Orthodoxy In Financial Policy	3
1.3 Benefits and Risks of Financial Liberalization	5
1.4 Objectives of Thesis	7
1.5 Data and Scope of Thesis	11
1.6 Limitations of Thesis and Future Research	13
Chapter 2 Malaysian Industry and Finance	16
2.1 The Malaysian Financial System	18
2.1.1 The Banking System	18
2.1.1.1 The Commercial Banks	21
2.1.1.2 Finance Companies	24
2.1.1.3 Merchant Banks	25
2.1.2 The Capital Market	25
2.2 Financial Liberalization in Malaysia	27
2.3 The Malaysian Manufacturing Sector	29
2.3.1 Industrial Master Plan	31
2.3.2 Studies on the Manufacturing Sector	34
Chapter 3 Financial liberalization and Allocative Efficiency	40
3.1 Literature review	41
3.2 Objective and Social Cost Benefit Analysis Methodology	44
3.2.1 Social Cost Benefit Analysis	46
3.3 Evaluation Procedure	48

3.3.1	Evaluation of Private Sector Projects	58
3.3.2	Evaluation Procedure of a Private Sector Project	59
3.3.2.1	Computation of PSV	69
3.3.3	Present Social Value Analysis	72
3.3.4	Analysis According Time Period (Absolute Amount)	74
3.3.5	Analysis According Time Period (PSV per Unit of Loan)	83
3.3.6	Analysis According to Manufacturing Sub Sectors	85
3.3.7	Summary of Results	110
3.3.8	Sensitivity Analysis	112
3.3.9	Concluding Remarks	114
Chapter 4	Financial liberalization, Credit Allocation and Cost of Credit	116
4.1	Literature Review	117
4.2	Bank Credit, Growth and Allocation	119
4.3	Credit Allocation in The Manufacturing Sector	134
4.3.1	Rank Correlation Analysis	134
4.3.2	Spearman Rho Correlation Coefficient Test	138
4.4	Cost of Credit Across Sectors	139
4.4.1	Statistical Results – Variance and Coefficient of Variation	143
4.5	Concluding Remarks	143
Chapter 5	The Malaysian Banking Institutions: Financial Liberalization, Performance and Financial Instability	146
5.1	Financial Liberalization and Efficiency of Intermediation	147
5.1.1	Literature Review	148
5.1.2	Banking Efficiency in Malaysia: A Cost Ratio Analysis	149
5.1.2.1	Cost Ratio Analysis Methodology	151
5.1.3	Results of Cost Ratio Analysis	154
5.1.4	Concluding Remarks	155
5.2	Financial liberalization and Financial Instability	157
5.2.1	Literature Review	158
5.2.2	A Model of the Banking Sector Crisis	160
5.2.2.1	The Logistic Regression Model	163
5.2.3	Model Evaluation	165
5.2.4	Estimation Results	167
5.2.4.1	Coefficients of the Logistic Regression Model	169
5.2.4.2	Impact of Financial Liberalization on Crisis Probability	172
5.2.5	Concluding Remarks	173

Chapter 6	Conclusion	175
	Appendices	181
	References	298