Below is the translation of my National Day address delivered in conjunction with the 52nd year of Malaysia's independence.

NATIONAL DAY ADDRESS BY
YAB DATO' SRI MOHD NAJIB BIN TUN ABDUL RAZAK
PRIME MINISTER OF MALAYSIA
ON 30 AUGUST 2009 (SUNDAY), 9 PM

Bismillahirrahmannirrahim

Assalamualaikum Warahmatullahi Wabarakatuh dan salam 1Malaysia.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

1. Alhamdulillah, firstly let us all give thanks to Allah S.W.T for His blessings that tomorrow we will celebrate our 52nd independence day with the theme 1Malaysia People First Performance Now.
2. Fifty two years ago, a group of national patriots led by YTM Tunku Abdul Rahman Putra al-haj successfully gained this country its independence after nearly five centuries under colonial rule. 3. The post-independent period saw the task and responsibility of determining the direction of this great land once held by colonists pass into the hands of its native sons.
4. With a new government bearing limited administrative experience, amidst the still-unabated communist upheavals, a socio-economic imbalance grew and spread, reinforced by the multi-ethnicity of a young nation, hence many predicted a pending demise of Malaya. 5. Despite the predictions, we have proven the sceptics wrong. In the five decades of our independence we have emerged among the leaders of the developing nations. We became the first country in the world to defeat the communist uprising and brought social justice through a sense of equal ownership within a short period of a mere two generations. Ladies and Gentlemen,
6. What is this secret formula that drives our success? Certainly and undoubtedly, it is unity amongst our people of various ethnicity and beliefs, based upon a philosophy that celebrates diversity as a source of strength, rather than a point of discord that causes disunity.
7. Sadly, the passing of time has witnessed the bridge painstakingly built by our forefathers now shaken by certain quarters that attempt to disrupt the peace. They have exploited the fine lines that exist in a multi-ethnic society, be it political, religious or social in nature, to serve their own warped agenda.
8. At this crossroads, the biggest challenge facing Malaysians is to restore this bridge and demolish the walls that separate us. At its core, we must continue to manage success, building upon what we have achieved by cultivating the principles we have long nurtured. Let us remember that what we now enjoy might not become better, instead it could deteriorate if neglected. The proof is in the world's history, where success poorly managed ends in failure.

9. It is true that success does not come easy. Hence, I must remind everyone especially the younger generation that the good fortune we enjoy today did not come without careful planning, efficient implementation and great sacrifice.

10. This success is the result of the great struggles, blood, sweat and tears of our heroes whether sung of or not. It was built by our ancestors. It was defended by our security forces who were ready to give up their lives. It was nurtured by scholars and educators who strove regularly in classrooms and lecture halls. It was enhanced by heroes of the private sector, corporate heroes, hawkers and small entrepreneurs who tirelessly worked for prosperity. Finally, it was catalysed by the dedicated public servants.

11. Clearly, the success and prosperity of Malaysia all this while grew and developed out of the contribution and support of people of all races, all religious beliefs, all walks of life, whether in rural or urban areas, whether the haves or have-nots, old or young. Therefore, I wish to reaffirm that every one of us is given equal opportunity under the Malaysian sky. The only barrier to our individual achievement is the will to succeed, the willingness to work hard, and the courage to take risks. Ladies and Gentlemen,

12. Above all else, for over five decades Malaysia has faced numerous milestones. All of them were met for better or for worse with a united spirit.

13. Beginning from the bitter chapter of the Bintang Tiga brutality, the monumental need to create meaning to our independence which was gained without bloodshed, through socioeconomic bias, ethnic discord on 13 May '69, the economic downturn of the 80s and the Asian economic crisis at the end of the 90s. All of these were confronted and all of these we survived. Clearly regardless of our achievements, we cannot afford to rest upon our laurels without striving for more success.

14. With that in mind, in order to ensure a better tomorrow the government has introduced more effective policies that will propel us forward towards becoming a developed nation. At the beginning of my administration I had initiated the 1Malaysia concept based upon the Federal Constitution and Rukun Negara as the foundation for the government's goals. We do not stop at setting a mission statement, instead we have constructed concrete initiatives. Starting with efforts to overhaul the public service delivery system, promoting the public welfare agenda as a government priority leads to efforts to stimulate the national economy so that continuous prosperity can be enjoyed by the country and its people.

15. In closing, let us reignite the spirit of patriotism by dedicating our efforts unequivocally in the name of 1Malaysia. Let us realise a more prosperous and peaceful future for all Malaysians. Let us ensure the hallowed banner of our Jalur Gemilang flies proud in the eyes of the world. Together, let us pray for this noble journey to continue, blessed and guided by God.

Wabillahi Taufiq Walhidayah Wassalamualaikum Warahamtullahi Wabarakatuh. Thank You.

Past leaders have made a mess of this country and turned it into a huge Jamban. And now everyone is talking and shouting about 1Malaysia.

As is always the case - alot of slogans but no Blue Print and Action. Nobody in the 18 million odd population has the guts to ask for the Blue Print to bring about 1Malaysia. It is a beautiful concept but are the leaders sincere to make it happen ? Where do you start ?

Perhaps you can consider these few points :-

1. Abolish the ISA.
2. Abolish Bumi Status.(so-called)
3. Practise complete Religious Freedom.
4. Completely revamp the Civil Service and other privatised (piratised ) utilities like TNB,TM,PETRONAS,POS MALAYSIA etc.
5. Use English as the medium of instruction in schools
6. STOP changing policies every 3 or 5 years.
7. Leaders of Islam be non-obtrusive in their zest to practise the religion.
8. Above all Have only 1Legal System for 1Malaysia.

If you can't do these for a start don't hope for 1Malaysia to happen.

What happen to that mood we used to have back then..it all died off..

Now I use this day as an excuse to get out of the house to party all night long. Why should I be excited anymore? Is there a reason? Maybe there is for some of you..but to be honest there is no reason for me to be excited and its a shame.

It's even hard to see flags around this time..
There's no spirit in our lovely nation anymore..

What's happening to our lovely country..?
It's like no one has the semangat (spirit)to celebrate anymore.. and I'm not even gonna elaborate more on why we don't feel like how we used to..

cause we're all scared to voice out this is what Malaysia has become..

I miss Malaysia I felt secured then and I don't like it now..

Give us back our spirits and hope to be one nation

Happy Merdeka to those of you who hopes for a change...!

I believe Malaysia can do it

God bless

On the eve of Independence Day, there was a t.v. movie on national independence. No wonder some people do not feel Malaysian even though their ancestors probably settled here even before Admiral Hajji Mahmud Shams of China landed in Malacca way back then. Today, most people have their own personal independence. To talk seriously about national independence will also lead to the talk of politics. If people feel that Malaysia is their real and actual home, they will do everything to keep this home and family together. Many Malaysians hold a permanent residence status in other countries. Are these Malaysians divided in their love for Malaysia ? Worldwide, the political scenario is changing. Malaysians can get their source of information easily since Malaysia has some of the world's latest technologies. When you experience something different, you have to change in order to accommodate this. Will the pinnacle of the future consists of the elements from the past and present ?

Our fathers being Captain in Force 136 has gone through great struggles moving through the jungles of Pahang monitoring activities of rivals in the true spirit of being patriotic to the nation. All Malaysian even visitors must know and respect the ingredients of the nation's route to Merdeka. Politicians of whatever party is obligatory to ensure peace and harmony in this country. All Malaysian have the unequivocal right to live in peace and harmony; anywhere in this country.

As a Malaysian, I fully support that the Ministry of Home Affairs be given sovereign rights to ensure stability and peaceful coexistence of all in this country. This is the base and start up point to all other successes, insyaAllah.

The Federal Constitution and Rukun Negara should be the guiding light to all races, all religious beliefs, all walks of life, whether in rural or urban areas, whether the haves or have-nots, old or young.

ramlan ahmad: ENCIK-Elevating the Nation's Capabilities by embracing IT & Knowledge

YAB, the feeling of patriotism is fast fading away with many as there is a lack of "sense of belonging" caused by the misdeeds of politicians through the years. Ordinary Malaysians who work hard & are law abiding are losing out to those who don't even have ability that gain massive wealth "atas angin" from political connections i.e. PKFZ. Worse these people then squander the wealth & keep asking for more! Malaysia therefore belongs to politicians & those connected to them. Professionals & intellectuals especially are asking themselves whether they can take any more of this nonsense & see a longer term future for themselves & family and many are saying NO! Expect then to see a brain drain happen over the next few years if BN Govt. does not change fast enough. Forget about the Developed status if there is lack of talent to drive & make it happen.

Patriotism will return once BN serves the interest of the Rakyat & to YB Shafie Afdal; my hats off to you for your humility & service!

Congratulations YAB Datuk Seri. Rightly mentioned that everyday of the week, every week of the month and every month of the year for the next few years, we need to measure our degree of loyalty to our one and only country Malaysia. Let's reward our loyal Malaysians, let's banish those few who are always creating problems and discomfort. When all avenues are created for constructive dialogue, there shouldn't be anyone taking to the streets. These trouble makers should be hanged for being puppets to sow discontentment and unhappiness. They have to learn to live democratically. The majority had decided, till the next time we seek for the voters consent, let's get on with the work. Let's start making Malaysians happy, solve their problems and make their lives better. We have no time for the minority who wants to keep governing the country and running it down. The majority wants to be united and to live in peace. And One Malaysia is the way forward for all Malaysians. MERDEKA.

YAB, the feeling of patriotism is fast fading away with many as there is a lack of "sense of belonging" caused by the misdeeds of politicians through the years. Ordinary Malaysians who work hard & are law abiding are losing out to those who don't even have ability that gain massive wealth "atas angin" from political connections i.e. PKFZ.	National Unity &amp; Identity
Worse these people then squander the wealth & keep asking for more! Malaysia therefore belongs to politicians & those connected to them.	Threats to Malaysia
Professionals & intellectuals especially are asking themselves whether they can take any more of this nonsense & see a longer term future for themselves & family and many are saying NO! Expect then to see a brain drain happen over the next few years if BN Govt. does not change fast enough. Forget about the Developed status if there is lack of talent to drive & make it happen.	Challenges Faced by Malaysia

THE MALAYSIAN PRIME MINISTER, YAB DATO' SRI MOHD NAJIB BIN TUN ABDUL RAZAK'S 2009 NATIONAL DAY ADDRESS POSTED IN THE 1MALAYSIA WEBSITE

Bismillahirrahmannirrahim Assalamualaikum Warahmatullahi Wabarakatuh dan salam 1Malaysia. Ladies and Gentlemen,

S1	Alhamdulillah, firstly let us all give thanks to Allah S.W.T for His blessings that tomorrow we will celebrate our 52nd independence day with the theme 1Malaysia People First Performance Now.
S2	Fifty two years ago, a group of national patriots led by YTM Tunku Abdul Rahman Putra al-haj successfully gained this country its independence after nearly five centuries under colonial rule.
S3a	The post-independent period saw the task and responsibility of determining the direction of this great land once held by colonists
S3b	pass into the hands of its native sons.
S4a	With a new government bearing limited administrative experience, amidst the still-unabated communist upheavals, a socio-economic imbalance grew and spread,
S4b	reinforced by the multi-ethnicity of a young nation,
S4c	hence many predicted a pending demise of Malaya.
S5	Despite the predictions, we have proven the sceptics wrong.
S6	In the five decades of our independence we have emerged among the leaders of the developing nations.
S7a	We became the first country in the world to defeat the communist uprising
S7b	and brought social justice through a sense of equal ownership within a short period of a mere two generations.
S8	Ladies and Gentlemen, what is this secret formula that drives our success?
S9	Certainly and undoubtedly, it is unity amongst our people of various ethnicity and beliefs, based upon a philosophy that celebrates diversity as a source of strength, rather than a point of discord that causes disunity.
S10	Sadly, the passing of time has witnessed the bridge painstakingly built by our forefathers now shaken by certain quarters that attempt to disrupt the peace.
S11	They have exploited the fine lines that exist in a multi-ethnic society, be it political, religious or social in nature, to serve their own warped agenda.
S12a	At this crossroads, the biggest challenge facing Malaysians is to restore this bridge
S12b	and demolish the walls that separate us.
S13a	At its core, we must continue to manage success,
S13b	building upon what we have achieved by cultivating the principles we have long nurtured.
S14	Let us remember that what we now enjoy might not become better, instead it could deteriorate if neglected.
S15	The proof is in the world's history, where success poorly managed ends in failure.
S16	It is true that success does not come easy.
S17	Hence, I must remind everyone especially the younger generation that the good fortune we enjoy today did not come without careful planning, efficient implementation and great sacrifice.
S18	This success is the result of the great struggles, blood, sweat and tears of our heroes whether sung of or not.
S19	It was built by our ancestors.
S20	It was defended by our security forces who were ready to give up their lives.
S21	It was nurtured by scholars and educators who strove regularly in classrooms and lecture halls.
S22	It was enhanced by heroes of the private sector, corporate heroes, hawkers and small entrepreneurs who tirelessly worked for prosperity.
S23	Finally, it was catalysed by the dedicated public servants.
S24	Clearly, the success and prosperity of Malaysia all this while grew and developed out of the contribution and support of people of all races, all religious beliefs, all walks of life, whether in rural or urban areas, whether the haves or have-nots, old or young.
S25	Therefore, I wish to reaffirm that every one of us is given equal opportunity under the Malaysian sky.

S26	The only barrier to our individual achievement is the will to succeed, the willingness to work hard, and the courage to take risks.
S27	Ladies and Gentlemen, above all else, for over five decades Malaysia has faced numerous milestones.
S28	All of them were met for better or for worse with a united spirit.
S29	Beginning from the bitter chapter of the Bintang Tiga brutality, the monumental need to create meaning to our independence which was gained without bloodshed, through socioeconomic bias, ethnic discord on 13 May '69, the economic downturn of the 80s and the Asian economic crisis at the end of the 90s.
S30a	All of these were confronted
S30b	and all of these we survived.
S31	Clearly regardless of our achievements, we cannot afford to rest upon our laurels without striving for more success.
S32	With that in mind, in order to ensure a better tomorrow the government has introduced more effective policies that will propel us forward towards becoming a developed nation.
S33	At the beginning of my administration I had initiated the 1Malaysia concept based upon the Federal Constitution and Rukun Negara as the foundation for the government's goals.
S34a	We do not stop at setting a mission statement,
S34b	instead we have constructed concrete initiatives.
S35a	Starting with efforts to overhaul the public service delivery system, promoting the public welfare agenda as a government priority leads to efforts to stimulate the national economy
S35b	so that continuous prosperity can be enjoyed by the country and its people.
S36	In closing, let us reignite the spirit of patriotism by dedicating our efforts unequivocally in the name of 1Malaysia.
S37	Let us realise a more prosperous and peaceful future for all Malaysians.
S38	Let us ensure the hallowed banner of our Jalur Gemilang flies proud in the eyes of the world.
S39	Together, let us pray for this noble journey to continue, blessed and guided by God.

Wabillahi Taufiq Walhidayah Wassalamualaikum Warahamtullahi Wabarakatuh. Thank You.

C1S1a	Past leaders have made a mess of this country
C1S1b	and turned it into a huge Jamban.
C1S2a	And now everyone is talking
C1S2b	and shouting about 1Malaysia.
C1S3a	As is always the case – a lot of slogans
C1S3b	but no Blue Print and Action.
C1S4	Nobody in the 18 million odd population has the guts to ask for the Blue Print to bring about 1Malaysia.
C1S5a	It is a beautiful concept
C1S5b	but are the leaders sincere to make it happen?
C1S6	Where do you start ?
C1S7	Perhaps you can consider these few points :-
C1S8	1. Abolish the ISA.
C1S9	2. Abolish Bumi Status.(so-called)
C1S10	3. Practise complete Religious Freedom.
C1S11	4. Completely revamp the Civil Service and other privatised (piratised ) utilities like TNB,TM,PETRONAS,POS MALAYSIA etc.
C1S12	5. Use English as the medium of instruction in schools
C1S13	6. STOP changing policies every 3 or 5 years.
C1S14	7. Leaders of Islam be non-obtrusive in their zest to practise the religion.
C1S15	8. Above all Have only 1Legal System for 1Malaysia.
C1S16	If you can't do these for a start don't hope for 1Malaysia to happen.

Dear Mr. Prime Minister,

C3S1	I'm a 19 year old college student..
C3S2a	I remember back then when I was in primary
C3S2b	and secondary school, I use to get all excited when this time of the month comes.
C3S3a	I'l be in and out of class..

C3S3b	practicing for a play or a dance for the Independence celebration that we all have in school..
C3S4	It was the time we all looked forward to, to celebrate as proud Malaysians!
C3S5	What happen to that mood we used to have back then.
C3S6	.it all died off..
C3S7	Now I use this day as an excuse to get out of the house to party all night long.
C3S8	Why should I be excited anymore?
C3S9	Is there a reason?
C3S10a	Maybe there is for some of you.
C3S10b	but to be honest there is no reason for me to be excited
C3S10c	and it's a shame.
C3S11	Its even hard to see flags around this time..
C3S12	There's no spirit in our lovely nation anymore
C3S13	What's happening to our lovely country...?
C3S14a	It's like no one has the semangat to celebrate anymore..
C3S14b	and I'm not even gonna elaborate more on why we don't feel like how we used to..
C3S14c	cause we're all scared to voice out this is what Malaysia has become..
C3S15a	I miss Malaysia I felt secured then
C3S15b	and I don't like it now..
C3S16	Give us back our spirits and hope to be one nation
C3S17	Happy Merdeka to those of you who hopes for a change...!
C3S18	I believe Malaysia can do it.

God bless

C4S2	How do you explain the incident of insulting other religion in public?
C4S3	What your HOME Ministry, police, FRU and ISA is doing about this?
C4S4	How come no action is taken when this is clear a sedition and dangerous racial issue done by MALAYS in Shah Alam?
C4S5	Y no actions is taken yet?
C4S6	Y no FRU water cannon n no arrest at all?

C5S1	On the eve of Independence Day, there was a t.v. movie on national independence.
C5S2a	No wonder some people do not feel Malaysian
C5S2b	even though their ancestors probably settled here even before Admiral Hajji Mahmud Shams of China landed in Malacca way back then.
C5S3	Today, most people have their own personal independence.
C5S4	To talk seriously about national independence will also lead to the talk of politics.
C5S5	If people feel that Malaysia is their real and actual home, they will do everything to keep this home and family together.

C5S6	Many Malaysians hold a permanent residence status in other countries.
C5S7	Are these Malaysians divided in their love for Malaysia ?
C5S8	Worldwide, the political scenario is changing.
C5S9a	Malaysians can get their source of information easily since Malaysia has some of the world's latest technologies.
C5S10	When you experience something different, you have to change in order to accommodate this.
C5S11	Will the pinnacle of the future consists of the elements from the past and present ?

C6S1	First of all, I would like to convey my congratulation and appreciation to you, YAB Dato' Sri for your brave move to make 1Malaysia as a way forward for all Malaysians.
C6S2a	I am sure racial harmony is still very much intact
C6S2b	and with your administration, I am sure a better sense of patriotism will be instilled.
C6S3a	In my opinion, most demonstrations were from individuals with political reasons
C6S3b	or from those who hide behind the name of NGO for their own agenda.
C6S4	In general, Malaysians are people who love living in harmony.

All the best to you, YAB Dato Sri, all Malaysians and Malaysia. Happy Merdeka day to all.

C7S3	All I know is I took part in cultural shows, elocution contests, big walks and many other contests during my school days.
C7S4	I did all that despite having to help my parents carry drinkng water from the public paip (pipe) to our rakit home daily;to collect empty milk cans behind kopitiam and clean them for my mum's coffee stall(back then, tin cans were for take-away drink)
C7S5	Life was tough but fun.

C8S4	I share the same view as the article written by FRUSTRATED MALAYSIAN (Toowong), a Malaysian residing in Australia on this Independence Day.
C8S5a	To be very frank if you, Mr PM would allow me to comment on your wishes of 1Malaysia vision to succeed,
C8S5b	you need to make sure that you walk the talk.
C8S6	Otherwise it will be just another slogan, "NICE TO SEE, NICE TO HEARS, IN THE END THERE IS NOTHING TO SHARE".
C8S7	My only 52 Merdeka wish to you Mr PM is to be the true hero of a true Malaysian where by there is no more differentiation of a bumi or non-bumi.
