Discursive Construction of Identities of Young Homosexual Males:

1. Title of the research project

Discursive Construction of Identities of Young Homosexual Males

2. Purpose

The research is undertaken for the purpose of fulfilling the partial requirement for Master in English as a Second Language, University Malaya.

3. Name of the researcher

Zainon binti Shamsudin

4. Description of the research

This research addresses the issues of identity construction of homosexual males living in Malaysia through their narratives regarding their lives and aspirations. The research will focus on these individuals' linguistic processes and discursive strategies in the formation, negotiation, and establishment of their identities in their narrations.

The objectives of this study are to investigate:

- how these individuals discursively construct their identities through their language.
- how these individuals position themselves vis-à-vis the dominant traditional gender ideologies in de(constructing) their identities.

5. Description of subject involvement

You are being asked to participate in this study because you fulfill the characteristic needed as a participant of this study.

To be eligible for this study subjects must be at least 18 years old and believe that he is a homosexual.

Subjects will be asked to complete a biodata questionnaire along with an interview with the researcher or a specific trusted person assigned by the researcher. The questionnaire will include particulars of the subject and the interview will include questions that require the subject to narrate his life stories – past, present, and future aspirations as a homosexual.

6. Length of subject participation

The interview will last approximately 60 minutes. There will only be one interview. The interview will be conducted at a time and place that is convenient to the subject.

7. Risks and discomforts of participation

There are no anticipated risks and discomforts associated with participation in this study. The interview will be carried out professionally and no personal judgment will be made by the interviewers.

8. Expected benefits to subjects or to others

You are unlikely to benefit directly from participation in this study. However, the data of this study will provide voices of homosexuals which are very rarely heard in the context of Malaysia. Hopefully, the findings of this research will contribute to the field of study of this research.

9. Confidentiality of records/data

Individual subjects will not be identified in any reports of this study. Research records will be kept confidential during and after the research. The researcher will not make any disclosure of information that would identify you as a participant in this research to any parties unless you provide written authorization to the researcher to do so.

10. Voluntary nature of participation

Your participation in this research is voluntary. Even after you sign this informed consent document, you may decide to stop further participation in the study at any time without penalty. Data that has been collected will remain in the study. You may skip or refuse to answer any survey question that you are not willing to disclose.

11. Document of the consent

One copy of this document will be kept together with the research records of this study. Also, you will be given a copy to keep.

12. Consent of the subject
