

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My sincere expression of thanks and gratitude to Professor Datuk Dr. Abdul Rahman Idris, Department of Educational Management, Planning and Policy, Faculty of Education, University of Malaya for his supervision, guidance, assistance and the encouragement that were patiently and graciously given throughout the process of writing this research report.

My gratitude and appreciation to all respondents in the three secondary schools for their cooperation and willingness to participate in the research study and enabled me to gather the needed data and carry out the research successfully.

I would like to thank the school administrators for their kind and generous assistance in allowing me to meet with the teachers and the students in order to complete the questionnaires and to conduct the interviews with the teachers.

Finally, my appreciation to my dear wife and children for their love, care and support while I was involved in the doctorate programme.
