

ABSTRAK

Air merupakan salah satu unsur yang paling penting yang perlu dirawat dengan cara yang betul. Rangkaian Air telah ditubuhkan untuk memudahkan kehidupan rakyat yang menjadi kebimbangan besar sebagai hak asas manusia. Berikutan gelombang sejarah jualan aset milik negara di seluruh dunia, penswastaan masih antara keutamaan dan mempunyai satu fenomena global. Disebabkan keadaan semasa, pemilikan syarikat perkhidmatan air Jakarta yang dikenali sebagai PDAM Jaya telah dipindahkan pada tahun 1997 daripada agensi kerajaan kepada pihak pengurusan sektor swasta, ia telah diswastakan selama 16 tahun dengan tujuan untuk pengurusan yang lebih baik dan beberapa penambahbaikan. Satu lagi isu lain sejak perkhidmatan air telah diswastakan ialah kenaikan bil air yang telah semakin meningkat di Indonesia. PDAM Jaya bekerjasama dengan syarikat-syarikat swasta, Lyonnaise dan Thames, yang menyediakan perkhidmatan kepada orang ramai. Pemilikan itu dimiliki sepenuhnya oleh kerajaan Indonesia tetapi mengikut peraturan, pemilikan persendirian dalam setiap syarikat boleh memiliki 95% dan lain-lain 5% ini adalah milik kerajaan. Kajian ini akan menganalisis sumber-sumber yang adalah dari jurnal, kertas penyelidikan, kajian sebelum ini dan bahan-bahan rujukan lain. Selain itu, beberapa kaedah telah digunakan untuk mengumpul data yang berkaitan dengan kajian ini. Ini adalah kaedah kualitatif seperti dokumen dan sejarah, dan temu bual. Kajian ini bertujuan untuk menggambarkan perkhidmatan air penswastaan sebagai salah satu daripada dasar-dasar ekonomi di Indonesia dan sebagai masalah ekonomi. Kajian ini juga cuba untuk menggambarkan pemilikan perkhidmatan air berdasarkan ajaran Islam. Akhirnya, ia akan memberi tumpuan kepada penswastaan air dan pemilikan perkhidmatan air sebagai prinsip ekonomi Islam.

ABSTRACT

Water as one the most substantial elements should be treated in a right way. Water networks have been established to simplify people's life and are of great concern as a basic human right. Following the historical wave of the state-owned asset sales around the world, privatisation is still among the top priorities and has a global phenomenon. Due to current situation, the ownership of Jakarta water services company known as PDAM Jaya had been transferred in 1997 from government agency to private sector management, it had been privatized for 16 years with the aim of better management and some improvements. Another issue is the increment of water bills in Indonesia, which have steadily increased since the water services were privatised. PDAM Jaya cooperates with private companies, Lyonnaise and Thames, which provide services to the public. The ownership is fully owned by government of Indonesia yet according to rules and regulations, private ownership in every company may posses 95% and the other 5% still belongs to government. This research will analyse sources that are mainly from journals, research papers, previous studies and other reference materials. Also, several methods were used in collecting data that relate to this study. These are qualitative methods such as document and historical methods, and interviews. This study intends to describe water services privatisation as one of the economic policies in Indonesia and as an economic problem. This research also tries to deliberate ownership of water services based on Islamic teachings. Finally, it will focus on water privatisation and ownership of water services as an Islamic economic principle.
