

ABSTRACT

The purpose of this research was to analyze the roles of Islamic banking in developing the economy in Pattani province, southern Thailand as practised by Islamic Bank of Thailand through the implementation of the Islamic banking products as provided by Islamic Bank of Thailand at Pattani province. Based on how the Islamic Bank of Thailand plays a role in the economic development of Muslim community in Pattani province, southern Thailand. Since the Islamic Bank of Thailand has grown rapidly in Thailand's southern provinces particularly in Pattani province. In doing research on the banking system and its role in Pattani province, the researcher have analyzed and examined the files and documents published by the Islamic Bank of Thailand on the implementation and application of the products and lists of banking services. Likewise, another data collection method was that, the researcher conducted interviews with respondents whom were officers and agents working with the Islamic Bank of Thailand. This research proved that the implementation and application of Islamic banking products provided by the Islamic Bank of Thailand Pattani Province were sufficient and appropriate to the needs of the population in this region. This shows the Islamic Bank of Thailand has been successful in meeting socio-economic needs that do not conflict with the principles of Shariah.