LIST OF TABLES

Table 2.1:	Scaffolding procedures and prompts	32
Table 2.2:	List of simple (single-word) prepositions	60
Table 2.3:	List of two-word prepositions	61
Table 2.4:	List of three-word and four-word prepositions	61
Table 3.1:	Students' assignment based on MUET	111
Table 3.2:	Students' performance in three PQ essays	120
Table 3.3:	The most frequent errors produced in the identification & translation test	123
Table 3.4:	Most frequent words based on the LCC and BNC for Law corpora	124
Table 3.5:	Category of patterns in each lesson	125
Table 3.6:	DDL v. non-DDL approach	126
Table 3.7:	Components of non-DDL module (Lesson 1)	129
Table 3.8:	Test Components	133
Table 3.9:	Respondents' previous education	140
Table 3.10:	Research Flows & Processes: Module Design & Experimentation	144
Table 3.11:	Research instruments and data analyses	151
Table 4.1:	Between-group overall score	156
Table 4.2:	Between-group score (gap-filling task)	163
Table 4.3:	Between-group score (error-identification & correction task)	164
Table 4.4:	Between-group score (semantic–function task)	168
Table 4.5:	Between-group score (single-sentence construction task)	171
Table 4.6:	DDL's within-group score (gap-filling)	174
Table 4.7:	DDL's within-group score (error-identification and correction)	174
Table 4.8:	DDL's within-group score (semantic function)	176
Table 4.9:	DDL's within-group score (single-sentence production)	177
Table 4.10:	Non-DDL's within-group score (gap-filling)	179
Table 4.11:	Non-DDL's within-group score (error-identification and correction)	179
Table 4.12:	Non-DDL's within-group score (semantic function)	182
Table 4.13:	Non-DDL's within-group score (single-sentence production)	184

Table 4.14:	Summary findings of RQ1, RQ2, and within-groups	185
Table 4.15:	DDL versus non-DDL approaches	217
Table 4.16:	Advantageous of corpus use	223
Table 4.17:	Difficulties / problems in corpus use	226
Table 4.18:	Corpus use in grammar and preposition learning	232
Table 4.19:	Respondents' previous legal education	238
Table 4.20:	A difference in individual DDL students' performance in relation to their previous education	243
Table 4.21:	A difference in individual students' performance based on their previous education (non-DDL)	248
Table 5.1:	Summary findings of DDL and non-DDL groups' performance	257